CASE STUDY

Oasis Regulars: loyalty you earn, not loyalty you pay for

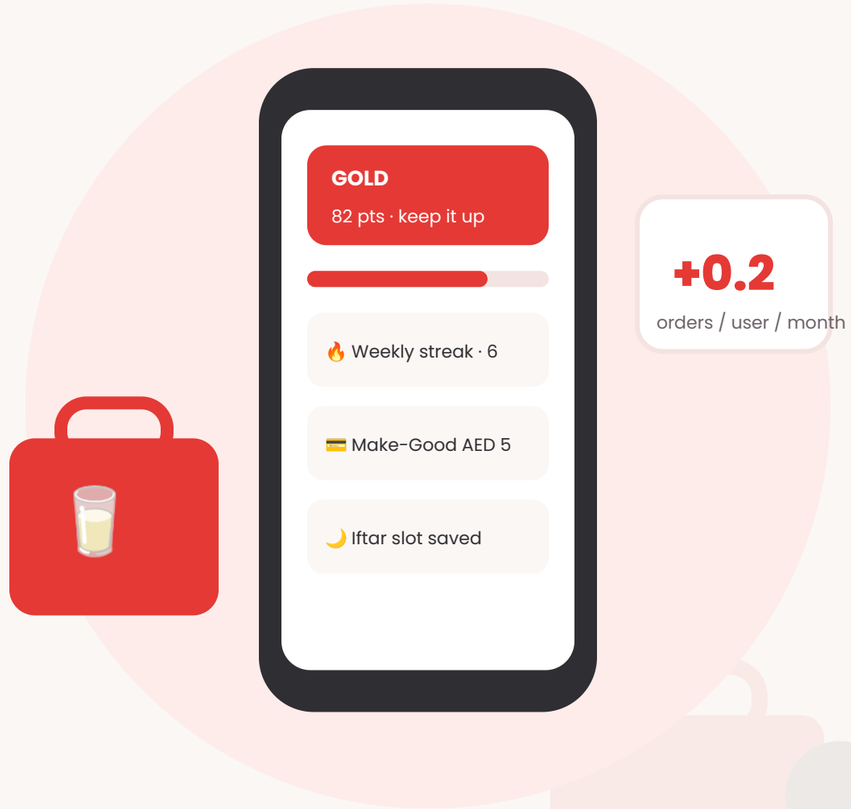

A free, earned-status programme for weekly households in one Dubai zone. It rewards order frequency and basket value 50/50, and it pays an automatic Make-Good credit when an order is late.

What is Oasis Express, and why does loyalty matter?

Context: product, business, industry and the one number we want to move

What is the product?

- 🛒 Oasis Express delivers groceries, household essentials, pharmacy items and ready meals in about 22 min Brief
- 🏬 Dark stores and partner retail; scheduled slots and subscription bundles (water, diapers, staples) Brief
- 🌍 UAE, KSA, Egypt, Kuwait. Top cities: Cairo, Riyadh, Dubai Brief

How does it earn?

$32 Average order value, blended across markets Brief

60% of revenue comes from B2B team accounts, from only 20% of orders Q&A

6.5% Planning margin per order (talabat EBITDA/GMV proxy, not Oasis data) Ph1 decision

What industry is it in?

Quick-commerce / online grocery in MENA Ph3

- Ramadan grocery orders rise +33% at iftar and +81% at suhoor Pain #4
- UAE non-oil PMI 55.3, a 20-month high PRD §3
- Amazon Now (Oct 2025) and Keeta (Dec 2025) entered the UAE PRD §3

OBJECTIVE Lift repeat orders per active user by +0.2 a month in one Dubai zone, with no fee, and keep reward cost at or below AED 9.18 per redeemed order. PRD §1

What key moment do we focus on?

1 · Trigger: ran out of essentials

3 · Build the basket

4 · Checkout and slot

5 · Wait: late at peak

7 · Reorder: loyalty earns nothing

Stage 7 is the weakest moment Journey SAMPLE

Why should we care?

How do people solve this today, and who do we serve first?

Problem space: alternatives, competitors, segment choice and hypotheses

How do people restock today?

- 🚗 Weekly hypermarket trip: traffic and an hour lost Vision
- 🏪 Neighbourhood baqala by phone or WhatsApp, with informal credit Ph1 1D
- 📱 Switch between q-commerce apps for the best coupon that week Journey
- 💳 Pay for a membership to get free delivery Pain #1

B2B is 60% of revenue, but there is no capacity to build loyalty, reporting and budgets together Q&A Ph4 S3

What do we believe the main problems are? (hypotheses)

H1 · Recognition costs money
Regulars feel unrecognised; perks sit behind paid tiers that keep rising Pain #1 Notes 1

H2 · Fees cancel rewards
Markups and fee creep make any reward feel fake Pain #2

H3 · Failures go unpaid
Missing or late items get no compensation, so trust breaks Pain #3

H4 · Peaks fail regulars
Iftar and evening orders are late when they matter most Pain #4

What is the real problem?

Problem: the root cause, the proof, the timing and the value

What is the true problem? (5 whys)

1. Why do regulars switch apps? Loyal ordering earns nothing. The next coupon wins. Journey
2. Why does it earn nothing? Oasis has no loyalty or rewards programme today. Q&A
3. Why not copy a paid membership? Paid tiers feel like a toll. Fees rise and perks get cut. Pain #1
4. Why do fees rise? Delivery cost rises (UAE petrol +50%). A paid tier loses $0.16 per regular per month. PRD §6
5. Why does trust break? When an order fails, nobody fixes it without a fight. Pain #3

True problem: weekly households in Dubai cannot keep essentials restocked on time at a fair, predictable price. Competitors reward loyalty only through paid memberships, and failed orders go uncompensated. PRD §2

Is it a real problem?

28% monthly churn; an average household stays ~3.6 months Q&A PRD §2

↑ More reviews and tickets ask for points, tiers and streaks, mostly from weekly shoppers Notes 1

Why might it work?

Current behaviour

- 🔁 Weekly shoppers already reorder the same essentials Ph1 1A
- 📦 Subscription bundles already exist Brief
- 🗣️ They ask for streaks and tiers, not coupons Notes 2

User psychology

- 🎁 Endowed progress: everyone starts with progress shown Ph4 S3
- ⏳ Loss aversion: grace month before demotion US-3
- 🤲 Reciprocity: surprise credit after a failure US-5
- 🔒 Scarcity: protected iftar slots US-7

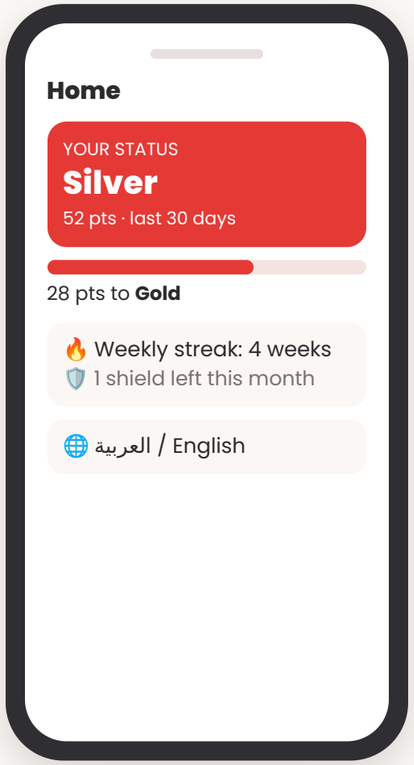

Benefits for the company
